Dear Sir:— I wish to thank you for the two booklets concerning the Lincoln Memorial and for the data relating to the Hanks family in Kentucky. It seems almost impossible to locate the birthplace of Lincoln's mother. I should like to know where in Virginia she was born. By working together as you suggest we may come somewhere near locating her birthplace. The records of some of the counties in this part of Virginia are incomplete, for instance: Frederick County was organized in 1738, yet the marriage records of the county do not go back further than 1782. In other counties the early records were destroyed by fire. It does not look as if the members of the Hanks family owned real estate in this section of Virginia, that is, in Frederick or in Panamint. I hope to find time to look through the records of Hampshire County. Prior to 1759 my own county of Panamint formed part of Prince William. The early records of that county were destroyed by fire. If I can pick up any data throwing light on the subject I will send it to you. If you know in what year Joseph Hanks settled in Kentucky will you please let me know? I am sending you some facts which may interest you.

Respectfully yours,
Curtis Chappelle.

Dear Mr. Chappelle:-

Your letter gives me much encouragement that the problem which has been left unsolved by every Lincoln Biographer is about to unfold.

After reviewing the lists of heads of families in the first census, the Joseph Hanks entry from Hampshire County West Va. appealed to me as the probable source of Nancy Hanks. Accordingly I wrote to the County Clerk, at that time C. W. Hines, and received the following reply to my question as to whether or not the records were intact: "1749 to present time, all wills and deeds date back as far as 1749" I have never had the opportunity, however, to visit Hampshire County, and sincerely hope that you may find time to spend a couple of days over there.

I shall be glad to share with you any expense to which you may be put, in searching for these records, and wish that I had the time and means to go over the records with you.

You will find enclosed a photograph which I took in the Amelia County Court House of a marriage bond showing the spelling of the name which Mrs. Hitchcock calls Hanks. The signatures do look like John Hanks and Joshua Hawks but I am convinced they are both Hawks.

Dear Sir:— I have put off answering your letter hoping in the meantime to be able to get more facts concerning the Hanks family in this part of the country. Of late I have been in the clerk's office at Warrenton and at Winchester, and run over the records in part. I find that a William Hanks lived in Fauquier County in 1776. The records of Frederick County contains the will of a John Berry which was proved in March, 1800, it mentions his wife Patience and the following children: Joseph, Samuel, David, John, Aaron, Lydia, and Margaret. Another John Berry's will was proved in Frederick in Oct. 1773. His wife was named Frances. He had a son named William.

I could not find any mention of a James Berry in the Frederick County records.

Thomas Berry's will made proved in 1819 mentions a son named Joseph who went to live in Kentucky; another son, William was left a tract of land in Kentucky on the Licking. Enoch Berry's will was proved in Frederick in Sep, 1802. His wife Nancy is mentioned but no children are mentioned in the will.

A man by the name of John Bramfield lived in Shenandoah county in 1782. This county was a part of Frederick county prior to 1772. The records of Shenandoah county are quite complete, though I have not found time to go through them. I want very much to go to the county-seat of Hampshire. I do not see how I can find the time to go through those records as I should like to in the near future. I hope to be able to do so some time next fall.

The following heads of families by the name of Berry lived in Hampshire county in 1782:— George, Ruben, William, Joel, and Enoch.

I thank you for the privilege of seeing the little photo of signatures in Amelia county. Evidently the two signatures are of men by the name of Hawks. Do you want me to send the photo back to you? Thanking you for the facts you have given me, and Hoping that we can learn more of the ancestry of Nancy Hawks I am

Sincerely yours

Dear Sir:- Your letter was received some days ago. I have not had an opportunity to visit the county-seat which I should like to visit as yet. There are three county-seats which I want to visit when I have the time to do so. I send you some facts that may be helpful in the work we have undertaken. I am inclined to think Lucy Hanks was the daughter of Joseph Hanks even if she was not mentioned in the latter's will made or probated in 1793. If Thomas Sparrow and his wife Betsey Hanks lived in Mercer County in 1791, it may have been that Lucy Hanks made her home with them, since she married Henry Sparrow in that county in 1791. Do you know in what county Thomas Sparrow lived? Do you know where Richard Berry lived in Kentucky in 1791. Do you know what relation he was to Benjamin Berry who settled in Mercer county in 1779. If Joseph Berry Hanks bought land in Nelson county in 1787 and his deed is on record in that county, does it state where he was from? I hope I shall be able to find something of importance to send to you. I am Sincerely yours,
Curtis Chappell

Dear Mr. Chappellear:-

I have just returned from a few days spent in Chicago, where I had the opportunity of visiting the Durrett Collection in Chicago University. I found some valuable entries there bearing indirectly on our problem, but still leaving the question of the paternity of Nancy Hanks unsolved.

There is a tradition current which affirms that Nancy Hanks is the daughter of one Luck Hanks and that Nancy was an illegitimate child. There is also another tradition that makes Lucy the sisters of Elizabeth, Polly, and Nancy Hanks. These last three were daughters of Joseph Hanks. There is no public document, however, that affirms the maternity of Nancy, or the relation of Lucy to the three Hanks sisters, and I have found that traditions are worthless unless affirmed by authoritative records.

There has recently been erected in North Carolina a bronze tablet in memory of the parents of Nancy Hanks who lived there, and who became the mother of President Lincoln. The father's name was Dinny, I do not remember the mother's name. You can see the absolute necessity of ~~being~~ seriously no tradition until it agrees with public documents.

I will try and answer the questions which you ask and offer some other information that might give you a clue.

THOMAS SPARROW - married Elizabeth Hanks in 1796 five years after Lucy Hanks married Henry Sparrow. Thomas lived in Mercer County three years and later moved to Hardin County near the place where Abraham Lincoln was born.

RICHARD BERRY - These are three of them (three generations) living in Washington County when Nancy Hanks lived there. It was the Richard of the second generation that signed the marriage bond of Thomas Lincoln and Nancy Hanks as "gardin" not John H. Parrot who was on the bond as County Clerk. The older Richard was dead by the time Nancy was married, and the younger Richard was not old enough to act as a guardian.

My dear Mr Chappellear:-

I have your last letter before me and have also reviewed previous correspondence which we have had relative to the Hanks problem.

I am more enclined than ever to believe that you are in the center of the territory where the Berry, Thompson, Hanks and Sparrow Families resided in Virginia.

Hampshire County seems to me to be the most liable to produce results. There is one other family that seems to have been connected with both the Herry an Sparrow families, the name is Bowlin, Bowling or Bolin. James is the surname most frequently found.

I do not think it would be of any advantage to trace any of the families back of 1783 as all those which migrated to Kentucky and were connected with the Lincoln and Hanks families were here by that time.

We should keep before us in this research the value of the contribution we will be able to make to Lincoln History if we are successful in our quest.

but

At present there is one paternal line of the Abraham Lincoln tracable. We know but one of the four grandparents, Grandfather Lincoln. We do know that Grandfather Lincoln left a widow by the name of Bersheba but we do not know her last name, except traditionally. We do not know that Bersheba was the mother of Thomas Lincoln. We have no documentary evidence whatever which will allow us to speak with any authority as to who the parents of Nancy Hanks were.

These facts should make us exert every effort to make the discoveries, and I believe we will be successful. I shall be with the Draper Collection in Wisconsin Univ. and the Durrett Collection in Chicago next month and I anticipate finding something of value there.

I hope that the road conditions will make it

Dear Mr. Warren:

I have put off from time to time replying to your last letter hoping that I would be able to learn something which might be of value in tracing up the ancestry of Nancy Hanks. I am sorry to say that I have learned little or nothing in the meantime. We have bad roads here in winter and it is difficult to get very far from home. When the roads get better and the days longer I want to visit Romney, Hampshire County and one or two other places to look over old records. A good part of my leisure time this winter has been occupied in preparing some sketches of prominent men who were natives of my own county, Tanyard, for publication in the annual bulletin gotten out by the Tanyard Historical Society. While in the county seat of Fredericks some time ago I ran over the index to the will records. I saw the names of the following men in the index: William Mitchell, property appraised, 1767; Cary Mitchell, property appraised, 1798; James Mitchell, property appraised, 1819; Samuel Thompson, will, 1763; Ralph Thompson, will, 1771; Benjamin Thompson, property appraised, 1777; Thomas Thompson, property appraised, 1788. Possibly some or one of these names may suggest some relationship to the Thompsons or Mitchells you have been trying to trace. Thanking you very much for the information concerning the Berrys and hoping to be of real assistance in the undertaking,

I am sincerely yours,

Dear Sir: - I was in Romney, W. Va. on the first of August and found the records of Hampshire County very incomplete. The marriage records prior to the Civil War were destroyed during the war. Nearly all the old will books were also destroyed as well as some of the court reports. The deed books are complete except that some of them have been mutilated.

I am sorry that these records are in such a condition, for I believed that the old marriage records and wills would throw light on the matter we have been investigating. If the records of Hardy County have fared better it may be that some of the will books there would show something. I want to look over the records of Shenandoah County. They are I believe pretty well preserved. I have been told that the records of Rockingham County were pretty destroyed in the Civil War.

I enclose you some notes made at Romney. I am still of the opinion that the Joseph Hankins who at the head of a family of 11 persons, evidently living on Patterson's Creek in 1782, was the Hankins whose will ~~was~~ recorded in Kentucky, in 1793.

I have not found any record of the Bolens in Hampshire.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir: I enclose to you
some facts in respect to the matter you have in hand. In addition I wish to say that I lately saw in a history of the Methodist Church
it stated that William and John Hank, brothers and Methodist preachers, were born in Monroe county
W. Va., in 1795 and in 1800, respectively.
In Harrison's, "Landmarks of Old Prince William," lately published,
it is stated that Luke and Nancy Hanks, who joined a Primitive Baptist Church at Broad Run, in Tauxemine county, Va., removed to the Carolinas in 1785. In one of the notes that you sent to me they are mentioned as living in North Carolina. Hoping that the enclosed fact may help you, I am,

Dear Sir:

I enclose to you
some data picked up lately.
I did not have time to look over the early records of Augus-

to do at the first opportunity.
I do not believe the early marriage records of that county can be found.
Wishing you much success

Dear Mr. Warren:

I enclose to you
some facts about the Lincolns, taken from the records of Augusta County.
I find that a large number of persons
by the name of Berry lived in that county in early days; but I did not see any mention of a Richard Berry. There were also a number of Herrons living in that county. A man named Henry Shipley lived in what was Augusta County in 1760. I want to look further into records dealing with the Berrys.

Sincerely yours

Dear Mr. Warren:

I read the article on the ancestry of Lincoln by Dr. W.E. Barton in the New York Times. He seems to have left but few stones unturned in his research work. It is clear that he has refuted the Tarbell and Hitchcock theories respecting the Hanks family. Still he leaves us in the dark so far as our knowledge of the maternal grand father goes. I am inclined to think he is right in the belief that the paternal grand mother was Bethsheba Herring; although I do not see that he presents any authoritative evidence to show that she was really a daughter of Leonard Herring.

I guess Dr. Barton will publish in his book about all that can be learned from the known records. If I should run across anything of importance I will send it to you.

With best wishes I am

Very sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Chappelle:

The information which I have just recently received from you is appreciated far more than my promptness to reply would indicate.

I have been swamped with duties growing out of my historical work. Have just finished reading proof for a new Lincoln book written by a friend. Recently delivered an address before the Southwestern Indiana Historical Society on "The Mystery of Lincoln's Melancholy" and next Tuesday go to Indianapolis for an address before the Indiana Historical Commission on "Misused Sources for Modern Historians". Have also completed one volume of my own two volume work so you can understand why I have not been prompt in replying to your letters.

To get down to the problem of Lincoln's grandparents there is no one to day who is able to trace the parents of Nancy Hanks and no one who can present documentary evidence that Berchaba the wife of the senior Abraham Lincoln was a Herrin. The fact is we are ignorant of any of the Virginia grandparents with the exception of Abraham Lincoln.

Now I believe beyond any doubt that you have found the Joseph Hanks we are looking for in what was Hampshire County on Patterson Creek. We need to find the friends, Shipleys, Barrys, Mitchells and Thompsons there and we seem to have them.

I would suggest some lines that might be productive.

SHIPLEYS - If there are still some Shipley families are still living in Hardy County I should try and get in touch with them.

HANKS - I think the Joseph Hanks family in Hampshire is the one we want. Are there any Hankses still living in the county.

COUNTIES - Could you give me without very much trouble the dates of the establishment of the following counties and from what counties they were formed. Grant, Mineral, Hardy, Hampshire, Shenandoah, Frederick, Morgan, Berkley

There has recently been published by Waldo Lincoln of Worcester Mass a very expensive genealogy of the Lincoln Family it costs $12.00 but it is the most authentic volume extant. It has nothing in it however that will help us in our problem.

Shall advise you if I come across anything new.

Sincerely

Need not Return L. D. W. Virginia Jackson

John W. Wayland, of Harrisonburg, Va., wrote Myra Hank Rudolph, of Warren, O., July 3, 1926, that he had recently examined the records at Romey, Hampshire Co., Va., where he was told that practically all the wills and marriage records were destroyed during the civil war. The deeds were found intact. He found a mortgage running from Joseph Hanks in 1784, to Peter Putman covering a piece of land on Mikes Run, a drain of Patterson's Creek, presumably in Mineral Co., Va., or possibly Grant Co. He could find no further record pertaining to the transaction. He says the census records of 1782 shows Joseph Hanks head of a family in Hampshire Co. Va. Hampshire was formed from Frederick in 1753. The following is a copy of the copy, the copy being furnished to me by Myra Hank Rudolph with letter of Aug. 13, 1926, and recopied by me Aug. 23, 1926. (A. E. Ewing, Grand Rapids, Michigan.)
